

PEACE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE STUDIES PRE-MAJOR

Program Coordinator: Scott Johnson, 847.376.7286, sjohnson@oakton.edu

The Peace and Social Justice Studies Pre-major offers a suitable pathway to four year programs in Peace Studies as well as a range of other humanities and social science programs. An undergraduate degree in Peace Studies or related Humanities and Social Science major with a focus on social justice is a good basis for many future graduate programs, as well as programs in law. It is also good preparation for careers in social work, politics, medicine, environment, education, journalism and legal fields.

Peace and Social Justice Studies emphasizes the development of skills in analytical thinking, problem solving, conflict resolution, ethical and political deliberation and advanced reading and writing. It therefore offers excellent preparation for a range of career options. Students interested in Peace and Social Justice Studies pre-major should consider combining this pre-major with a general education focus on Humanities, Social Science and/ or Environmental Science.

The pre-major is designed for students who have not decided upon a specific four-year college or university. Once a transfer school is selected, students are strongly encouraged to consult the Office of Advising, Transitions, and Student Success and the transfer institution's catalog to select courses that will meet both Oakton and transfer institution requirements.

While completing the pre-major, students can also complete the requirements for Peace and Social Justice Studies Concentration. Students meeting the Concentration requirements will have a notation added to their transcript. Any course tagged as Peace and Social Justice Studies (PSJ) on Oakton class schedule, will help students complete the requirements for both concentration and pre-major.

The recommended sequence of courses can be altered based on student interests and scheduling needs. For more information on course selection or program-specific advising, contact the program coordinator. Part time students should also consult the Office of Advising, Transitions, and Student Success for part-time pre-major recommendations. General Education courses should be selected from the list of IAI General Education Courses.
