Educational Foundation

The Oakton Community College Educational Foundation is the philanthropic arm of Oakton Community College. It is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt, public charity governed by a community-based, volunteer Board of Directors. Established in 1977, the foundation was chartered to raise funds in support of the college. It provides funding and resources for Oakton that are not available through normal government and tax resources. The foundation actively seeks contributions from a variety of sources, including individuals, corporations, and other foundations. Since its founding, it has funded student scholarships, faculty and staff grants, equipment purchases, campus enhancements, and other initiatives that enrich Oakton’s learning and working environment.

Food Service

Oakton provides cafeteria and vending machine service at the Des Plaines and Skokie campuses.

Grant Strategy and Development

The Office of Grant Strategy and Development serves the college by developing sources of external support for educational and program needs that may not be funded through the college’s operating budget. The office serves as the college’s central point for solicited and unsolicited funds to support college programs and activities. To this end, the office coordinates efforts to apply for, secure, and administer appropriate federal, state, corporate, and foundation grants.

Koehline Museum of Art

The Koehline Museum of Art at the Des Plaines campus features programs and exhibits for students, college employees, and members of the greater community. It serves an educational purpose, exploring and illuminating current directions in regional, national, and international art. The Museum serves as a lab for the Museum Studies course (ART 120), advocates the support of local art, and makes an active effort to present Chicago-area artists focusing on modern and contemporary art. In addition to temporary exhibitions in the art gallery, the Museum houses the Oakton art collection. This collection is on display throughout the Des Plaines and Skokie campuses, and there is a self-guided tour of the collection at each campus. The highlights of the collection are commissioned and donated paintings and graphics, and a sculpture park.
