

SSC - SOCIAL SCIENCE

SSC 101 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

The Individual in Modern Society

Course introduces the social sciences by examining the individual's role in Modern Societies, using an interdisciplinary approach. Content explores perspectives of two or more of the following disciplines: history, economics, sociology, anthropology, psychology and/or political science.

IAI General Education: S9 900

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face | Online

SSC 105 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

Introduction to Ethnic Studies

Course introduces concepts and issues regarding race and ethnicity within and beyond the United States, and through a critical and interdisciplinary approach, studies their impact on society. Topics include identity and group affiliation; historical formation of racial categories and the emergence of theories of "whiteness"; issues of power and privilege; the connection between race, class, gender and sexuality; immigration and imperialism; and race and education.

IAI General Education: S7 903D

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face | Online

SSC 201 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

Introduction to Global Studies

Course provides interdisciplinary examination of global interdependence in the modern age and introduces students to various disciplines within the social sciences and the distinct perspectives and approaches used by social scientists in seeking to understand the process of globalization. Content includes examination of historical, ecological, cultural, technological and political-economic global developments. Focuses on perspectives and methodologies from two or more of the following social science disciplines: history, economics, sociology, anthropology, psychology, and/or political science.

IAI General Education: S9 900

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face | Online

SSC 205 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

Latin American Civilization and Culture

Course explores selected Latin American cultures and civilizations. Content includes historical background, with focus upon contemporary issues. Multidisciplinary approach uses perspectives from two or more of the following disciplines: history, economics, sociology, anthropology, psychology and/or political science.

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face

SSC 206 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

Contemporary China And Japan

Course explores current societies in China and Japan. Content focus is on contemporary political-economic and social issues. Multidisciplinary approach uses perspectives from two or more of the following disciplines: history, economics, sociology, anthropology, psychology and/or political science.

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face

SSC 240 3 credit hours (lecture: 3 | lab: 0)

Introduction To Social Research

Course introduces the basics of research in social sciences. Content includes research design, methodology, simple statistical analysis of data and interpretation of empirical social data. Students will design, conduct and interpret a short survey. Credit cannot be received in both PSY 240 and SSC 240.

Prerequisite: Introductory course in any of the social sciences.

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face

SSC 290 1-4 credit hours (lecture: 1-4 | lab: 1-4)

Topics In Social Science

Course explores major issues currently facing the United States and other nations of the world. Socioeconomic, political and other social-scientific perspectives are considered in the study of these global topics. Course has a different focus and/or scope from other courses currently offered in the department and can be repeated on different topics up to three times for up to nine credits. Fee Varies. Prerequisite may vary by topic.

Delivery mode: Face-to-Face